Belonging before visibility

1 Corinthians 12:12–27 · World English Bible · Public domain

12 For as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ.

13 For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all given to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot would say, “Because I’m not the hand, I’m not part of the body,” it is not therefore not part of the body.

16 If the ear would say, “Because I’m not the eye, I’m not part of the body,” it’s not therefore not part of the body.

17 If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be? If the whole were hearing, where would the smelling be?

18 But now God has set the members, each one of them, in the body, just as he desired.

19 If they were all one member, where would the body be?

20 But now they are many members, but one body.

21 The eye can’t tell the hand, “I have no need for you,” or again the head to the feet, “I have no need for you.”

22 No, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary.

23 Those parts of the body which we think to be less honorable, on those we bestow more abundant honor; and our unpresentable parts have more abundant modesty,

24 while our presentable parts have no such need. But God composed the body together, giving more abundant honor to the inferior part,

25 that there should be no division in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another.

26 When one member suffers, all the members suffer with it. When one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now you are the body of Christ, and members individually.

Context

Paul addresses a church learning to honor the different members of one body. Read the whole passage and notice his attention to members whose contributions receive less recognition.

Reflection

An entry level role can hold meaningful responsibility. Consider the people who depend on a well prepared briefing, an accurate referral, or a patient response. Christian belonging makes room for gifts to develop through service and relationship. Receive your present assignment with humility and give another person room to contribute.

Question

Whose contribution could I recognize, and what responsibility can I carry faithfully today?

Practice

Thank one person for a specific contribution and complete one overlooked task with care.

Prayer

Lord Jesus, ground my identity in Your love. Help me honor the people around me and serve well in the place entrusted to me.

A collection for the life you serve

Twelve Scripture studies, thirty daily practices, eight fictional scenarios, six guided tools, and four journeys.
